I cannot describe how I feel when I first started to play the game. The scenery is beautiful, the story is fantastic, and the story mode is truly memorable. The game is so addictive that I have already completed the quests of the first chapter. I'd like to make a vivid world with a wonderful story for you to enjoy. I was also in a tough battle with a giant boss in a boss battle. I didn't even know how to finish the battle after losing my magic and obtaining no new equipment. The game has always been full of surprises, and it will continue in the future. I'm looking forward to the next chapter. review by Games.com, 06/24/2013 BEST GAMES GAMES.COM REVIEWS "The glorious battlegrounds wait for us! I am eager for battle!" Interview with Kevin Barrett on Fe-RD-Grams

In April 2017, Voice actors who worked on AAA video games like Call of Duty and Star Wars: Battlefront 2 released a letter on LinkedIn detailing their community's dissatisfaction with the way that Activision and EA had handled their relationships with Twitter prior to February 2017, when Kevin Barrett released the first episode. That letter, in turn, triggered a wave of public rage on Twitter, many of which targeted the AAA gaming community's Big Four publishers, specifically Kotaku and Polygon.

Then, a second wave of rage hit, this time in response to Kevin Barrett's cartoon creation business, which promised to give people a "cartooning experience like you've never had." That was revealed to be quite a bit more than that, what with a variety of projects and targets under the Pizza Box Tron name, "DotCom" and "DotBill." In late March, he released a trailer for the first episode. After a few weeks of crowdfunding, the first episode was posted to YouTube on April 7.

Today, we're holding an exclusive interview with Kevin Barrett, creator of the ARCTURBOT project (which is still ongoing),
