Edward T. Barrett Edward Thomas Barrett (1873–1933) was a First Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps and a hero of the Boxer Rebellion in China. For his actions in the Battle of Taku Forts on September 7, 1900, he received the Medal of Honor. Military career Edward T. Barrett was born on January 17, 1873 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He graduated the Preparatory Department of the U.S. Naval Academy on June 25, 1891 and was commissioned a second lieutenant, USMC on July 1, 1891. On January 13, 1898, Barrett embarked aboard the, where he was commissioned on February 12, 1898. He arrived in China, via Manila and Manila Bay, on September 15, 1898, as part of the expeditionary force known as the Eight California Regiment. The regiment fought in the Battle of Manila Bay against the Kingdom of Spain in 1899. On September 7, 1900, Lieutenant Barrett's company arrived on the Taku Forts, where they were subjected to heavy attack from the Imperial Boxer forces. The defending Marines were surrounded, their cannon captured and their ammunition supplies discovered and seized by the Chinese. On Barrett's insistence, he was given command of the dismounted Marines who, armed with clubs and rifles, engaged in hand-to-hand combat with the Chinese. Lt. Barrett's men killed more than 250 Chinese imperial troops. Barrett himself was wounded in the foot by a Chinese soldier. He was ultimately captured when the rest of the Chinese forces retreated
